'TAKING KIDS FROM COMMUNITY TO COUNTRY'

January 2016 sees the launch of Rugby Canada's new strategic plan. The Rugby Canada strategic plan emphasizes the importance of developing skills during Learn to Train and Train to Train stage of Rugby Canada's Long Term Rugby Development Plan. This will be achieved in part with the delivery of Canadian Rugby National Key Themes Professional Development Workshops.

The Canadian Rugby National Key Themes will be delivered to U12 through to U16 coaches in both Rugby Clubs and High Schools through a coordinated National Training and Education Calendar delivered by Rugby Canada's Trained Professional Development Workforce.

The National Key Skills Resource is a document that can be used alongside the Rugby Canada National Skills Coaching Resource.

RUGBY CANADA'S LONG TERM RUGBY DEVELOPMENT

All of Rugby Canada's programs and documents are aligned with its Long Term Rugby Development (LTRD) model. All skills in this document are aimed at the following identified ages with the coach monitoring the competency of the player and adjusting any parameters (e.g. distance of pass) and progressions as needed. The Rugby Canada National Key Themes Resource focuses on the following LTRD stage:

LTRD STAGE 4 – TRAIN TO TRAIN

Objectives:

- Develop endurance, strength, and speed
- Develop and consolidate rugby-specific skills, and tactics
- Identify rugby-specific talent

WHAT ARE THE CANADIAN RUGBY NATIONAL KEY THEMES?

Four National Key Themes have been identified and agreed through consultation with Rugby Canada's National Coaches, High Performance Coaches and Provincial Coaches, facilitated by the Training & Education Team. This resource is aimed to assist with structuring your training sessions as well as challenging players' skills under pressure:

- Run, Catch & Pass
- Ball Out of Contact
- Tackle Technique & Tracking
- Breakdown & Clearout

These four National Key Themes have been identified as being vital in order to develop players capable of playing an exciting/enjoyable style of rugby.

- Have the capability to move the ball around the field effectively
- Create a quick breakdown
- Play a fast and effective style of rugby
- Develop important aspects of defence

The aim of the Canadian Rugby National Key Themes Resource is to highlight the benefits that this resource offers to all coaches and players, and supports its implementation into club and school training sessions. This resource is further supported by professional development workshops offered across the country.

BENEFITS FOR PLAYERS

A clear benefit of this resource is to support the development of our young athletes that will aim to increase their understanding as they acquire a greater knowledge of the core skills improving them as individuals.

- Give an opportunity for a player to be more effective in a rugby game
- Allow an understanding of how to use the National Key Themes in a game setting, improving and developing their skills and influence on the game
- Increase the ability to be more creative by varying styles of play in Schools, Clubs, Provincial and National Age Grade Programs
- Be able to enjoy a faster paced game and increased competitiveness

BENEFITS FOR COACHES

The Canadian Rugby National Key Themes Resource can add greater depth to your coaching sessions when used alongside team and unit skills. As a coach you will be challenged to:

- Focus on key factors
- Be able to observe and analyze critically
- Ensure that feedback is specific to the key factors of the skill
- Correct faults as well as praise good practice
- Further develop your club/school style of play/ethos
- Develop a more skillful and effective rugby player

When the Canadian Rugby National Key Themes are aligned with the Principles of Attack and Defence, we are able to appreciate how important these National Key Themes are to playing the game of rugby:

ATTACK

1. Gain Possession – (Run, Catch & Pass)
2. Go Forward – (Run, Catch & Pass / Ball Out of Contact)
3. Support – (Run, Catch & Pass / Ball Out of Contact / Breakdown & Clearout)
4. Continuity – (Run, Catch & Pass / Ball Out of Contact / Breakdown & Clearout)
5. Pressure & Points

DEFENCE

1. Go Forward (Tracking)
2. Support
3. Apply Pressure – (Tackle Technique)
4. Regain Possession – (Tackle Technique / Breakdown & Clearout)
5. Attack – (Run, Pass & Catch / Ball Out of Contact)

The benefits as a coach in being able to develop individual skills has been clearly outlined, another benefit will be the capability of critically observing and giving positive feedback to your athletes with specific key factors. This capability will allow you as a coach to effectively reflect upon individual / unit / team strengths. An increased knowledge of specific key factors of the Canadian Rugby National Key Themes will allow you to develop the way you want your team to play and ultimately assist in the innovation and planning of your coaching program.

BENEFITS FOR PERFORMANCE RUGBY

During the consultation process with the national, provincial and high performance staff, the clear message was that if we can perform National Key Themes effectively under pressure then this will create a foundation to further develop the players.

As a nation, if we are able to effectively implement these themes in a game environment then we will see a benefit to our provincial and national age grade programs.

The Canadian Rugby National Key Themes, Run, Catch & Pass, Ball Out of Contact, Tackle Technique, Breakdown & Clearout are unquestionably fundamental themes for the game of rugby, and will form a key part of the competencies that a player is measured against during the early stages of the Player Development Program. A player that can execute the National Key Themes effectively under pressure will be easier to identify to our Provincial and National Age Grade Coaches during Provincial and National Age Grade try outs.

An integral part of Rugby Canada's Talent Identification criteria will be observing players that have an introduction to, and basic development of, Rugby Canada's National Key Themes

A player that is able to run forward and while passing and catching a ball under pressure, can also pass the ball out of contact effectively is the foundation of which a team can be built. Additionally, the ability to retain the ball in contact, take the ball to the ground securely, ensure quick presentation for fast ball retention as well as bringing an opponent to ground quickly are vital fundamentals to team success.

For any player that has ambitions to be considered for Provincial and National Age Grade Programs, it is imperative that they are familiar with the key factors of the National Key Themes and able to execute them consistently and effectively under pressure.

HOW TO USE THE RESOURCE

This resource has been designed to assist coaches through the use of 'Game Sense Coaching'. The resource includes gradual build up skill practices, drills that can be used as part of whole-part-whole learning activities and learning activities. The resource is used best when it is integrated into a series of sessions.

By using a coaching process you will be able to introduce key factors of the National Key Themes, demonstrate the key factors, Observe and Analyze the key factors of the core skills and review the key factors critically & positively.

COACHING THROUGH GAMES

Games are the most effective way to create pressure and enable players to develop core skills and game understanding.

As coaches we aim to create an athlete centred environment where the athletes are able to make mistakes as well as be challenged in their decision making. Coaches should be aware of when to push information and when to pull information as well as the types of questions that a coach uses.

A coach must be able to provide both critical and positive feedback related directly to the instructional objectives. Which is directly related to the aim of the session, set out during the introduction stage of the coaching process. A challenge is to ensure that the coach focuses on 2-3 key factors throughout the session and resist temptation to try and 'fix everything'.

A coach that focuses on too many key factors may dilute the message that they are trying to coach/teach the athlete, causing confusion or too much information for the athlete to take in.

A benefit of this resource is that it has broken the National Key Themes into the relevant key factors of each of the four National Key Themes.

Once a coach and the player feels that they are performing the key factors of the National Key Themes consistently and effectively under pressure then it may be time to progress and challenge the players.

CONSIDER THE FOLLOWING WHEN USING GAMES:

- What safety considerations need to be taken into account?
- What is the aim of your session?
- What tactics and skills do you want to develop within the game?
- What modifications / exaggerations can you make to emphasize these tactics and skills?
- What is the main obstacle for the player to overcome?
- How is success measured?
- What questions can you ask players to develop their decision making?
- What progressions and regressions can you make?

An effective coaching tool is to use a whole-part-whole approach. This is when a coach facilitates a game (whole), once the coach identifies a specific core skill to be developed, the coach can then use a skill practice (part). The coach can then put the players back into a game or modified activity (whole) to challenge the players further in a game related environment.

PROGRESSION & REGRESSION OF GAMES & PRACTICES

It is important that a coach is capable of progressing and regressing a session based on observation and analysis of the players during the session. This resource has been developed to allow progressions and regressions.

Effective use of progressions in sessions is when there is a need to challenge the players in order to further their development. Regressions are effective when there is a need to re-focus on a more specific area of the game, or the players are not able to execute the National Key Themes effectively.

Coaches should look to move very quickly from unopposed conditions, as there is little to no pressure put on the players. The success also brings about a false impression of their ability to deliver the same standards under match conditions.

Pressure can be applied in several different ways:

1. Reduce time
2. Reduce space
3. Increase intensity
4. Provide and / or condition opposition

More often than not an opposition will provide all of these elements, conditioning the practice and increasing the degree or pressure as the National Key Themes develops. Pressure is essential to developing a technique into a skill.

EXAMPLES OF SOME MODIFICATIONS / CONDITIONS THAT CAN BE MADE TO PROGRESS OR REGRESS PRACTICES INCLUDE:

- Create more than one area that points can be scored in
- Dimensions of playing area (wide to develop expansive attack)
- Number of passes allowed
- Banning Kicking / promoting kicking
- Number of players in attack / defence
- Scoring system (e.g. could be for number of passes or effective ball out of contact)
- Risk / Rewards
- Time Allowed
- Specific roles for players
- Adding / Deleting game rules

‘RUN, CATCH & PASS’

RUN

- Call for the pass (sharing information)
- Hips Square
- Scan (Eyes towards the ball)

CATCH

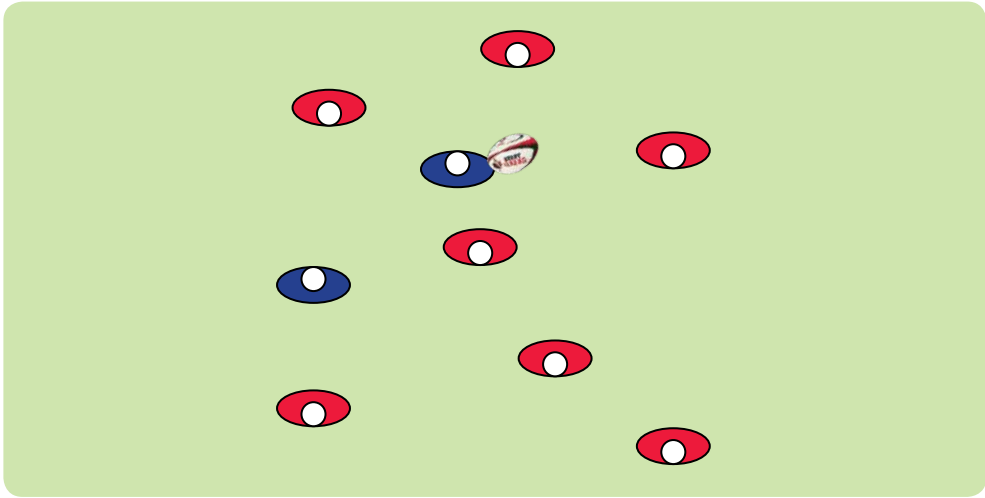

- Hands towards the ball
- Soft hands to receive the ball, fingers forward
- Ten finger contact and re-shape the ball
- Ball centred
- Scan & Listen, Make a decision
- Hips Square

PASS

- Eye Contact with target in which pass is being made to
- Move ball across the body
- Fire fingers towards target
- Follow through the pass

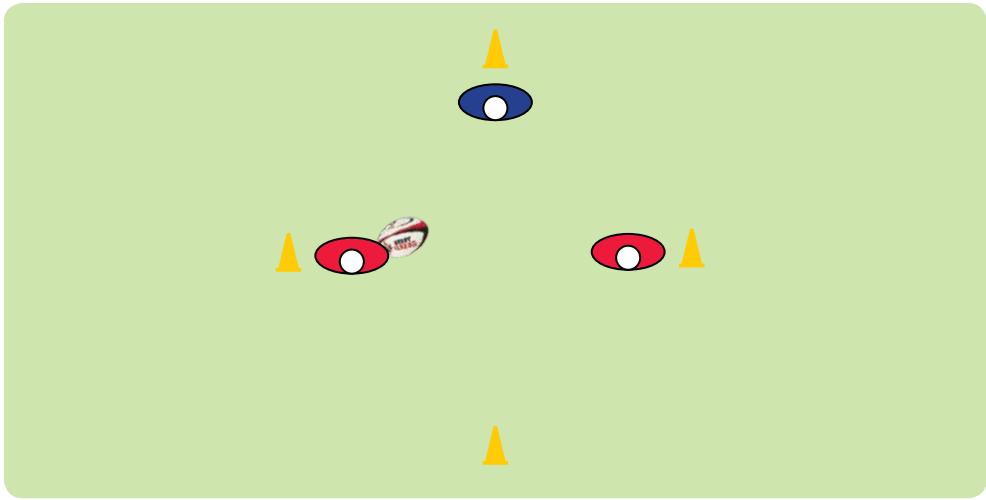

SKILL PRACTICE

BALL OUT OF CONTACT

BALL CARRIER

- Ball Carrier to identify space (Towards the gain line)
- Carry ball in two hands centred
- Attack defender, accelerate, use foot work, win the contest one handed off load – (Decision Making Opportunity)
- Leg Drive through contact, beyond shoulders of the defender
- Turn shoulders and hips to locate support player
- Timed offload to the support player (Pop Pass)

IF THE PLAYER GOES TO GROUND

- Fall to ground slowly
- Score try land on ball
- Pivot onto hip
- Is there an opportunity to pop off the floor – (Decision Making Opportunity)
- Pop ball to support runner

SUPPORT PLAYER

- Recognition of Offload
- Adjust support line to ball carrier
- Support ball carrier from depth
- Hands up
- Attack and break the gain line

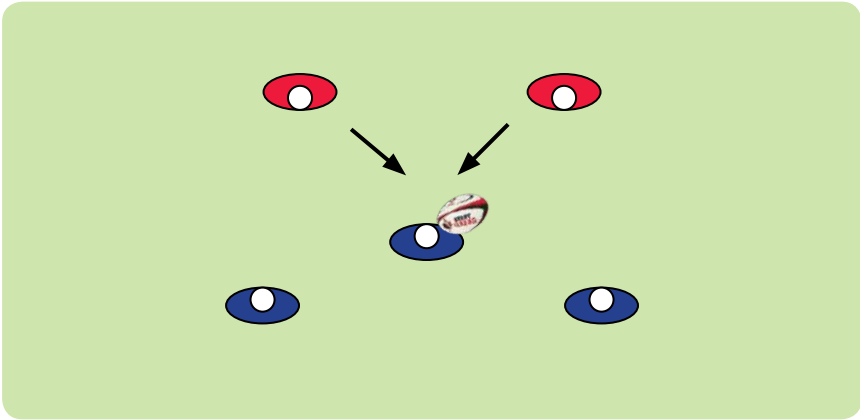

COACHING THROUGH GAMES

TACKLE TECHNIQUE & TRACKING

TACKLER

- Sight the Target
- Boxer Stance (Hands up, shoulder width, balls of feet, split stance, hips square)
- Track Ball Carrier
- Close space quickly with short steps, accelerating forward
- Sight target area
- Same foot same shoulder (Foot in the hoop)
- Shoulder contact on thigh
- Punch through tackle
- Leg drive
- Wrap
- Regain, feet to compete

BALL CARRIER

- Score try, land on the ball
- Place ball to outside (rock on to shoulder 2 handed placement)
- Ball and head towards own try line

BREAKDOWN AND CLEAR OUT

BALL CARRIER

- Attack defender, accelerate, use foot work
- Aim to get your inside foot outside there lead foot
- Keeping your hips square, accelerate, win the collision
- Adjust body height (chest parallel to the ground)
Ball on chest, elbow down
- Leg Drive, get through and behind the defender

Placement

- Score try, land on ball
- Place ball to outside (Rock on to shoulder 2 handed placement)
- Ball and head towards own try line

ARRIVING PLAYER

- Are players involved or not involved in the contest (breakdown)
- Adjust support to ball carrier
- Enter through gate
- Identify threat and visual cues

- Win the shoulder to chest battle
- Remove immediate threat – hips past the ball
- Shoulder to chest battle and/or identify windows

- Identify secondary threat
- Remove secondary threat or secure ball
(take space past the ball and hold position)

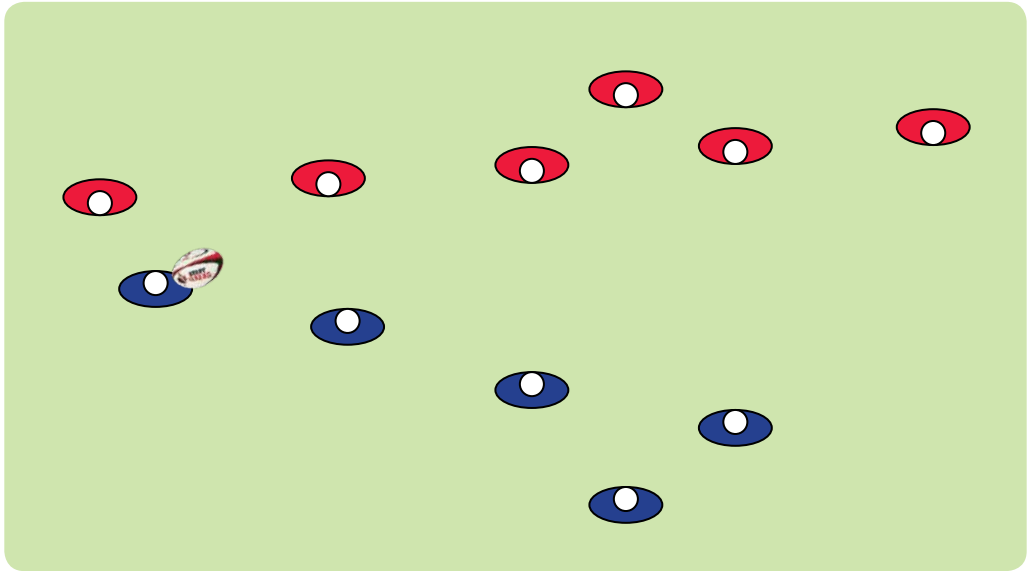

- In or out (has the ball been won)
- Assist the clear – remove any additional threats
